FOR THE PEOPLE

GLENDALE BRANCH POST-OFFICE DOES ANYTHING BUT SERVE PUBLIC

The question of getting better service at the Glendale branch of the Los Angeles post-office is up for consideration again. That poor post-office service is one of the things that causes good, law-abiding citizens to tend to be against the government is an established fact.

The fundamental principle of our United States government is a government of the people and for the people, and in the instance of the Glendale branch post-office there are no indications of it being operated for the accommodation of the people.

Just what person or persons are responsible for the management or more properly the mismanagement of post-office affairs in Glendale is unknown to the citizens of this place. Harrison Brown is the postmaster of the Los Angeles post-office, and then there is the superintendent of mails who is the active overseer of the whole Los Angeles post-office system. Who is there in Glendale that is aware of any personal interest these men have taken in bettering the conditions of the Glendale mail service? Could either of these gentlemen look in upon the little den where mail is now received and distributed to the public and decide that a room of this size is in keeping with a city of over 12,000 population? Could these gentlemen witness from ten to twenty people standing in line waiting for service with only one window open attended by one man without deciding that the business man who hurries in for a dollar's worth of stamps and has to wait from ten to fifteen minutes to get them, is not getting fair treatment?

It is just such actions on the part of heads of government departments that foster Bolshevism. Postmaster Brown and his close assistants practically say, "Glendale post-office patrons be damned." The money is collected from the patrons with as little service given in return as possible.

A committee is being appointed by the Greater Glendale Development Association to take this matter up with some one if that some one can be found. As it stands now, the Glendale post-office and the poor service given is a real joke.

PRIVATE CARL FRIEDGEN INSPECTS SOME THAT ARE AND SOME THAT ARE NO MORE

Two characteristic letters from Private Carl Friedgen have recently been received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Friedgen, of 129 Park avenue, this city, which will be of interest to his friends, both civilian and soldier:

"Ryveld, France,
"Dec. 26, 1918.

"Dear Father and Mother:—

"Well, we have moved a short distance since I wrote last, but one place over here is about as muddy as another now. It rains nearly every day and snowed a little a couple days ago.

"Hope you both spent a nice Xmas. Over here Xmas isn't celebrated as much as in our country. On the 23d I was given a two-day leave and went to Dunkerque and on Xmas went to Calais, which is about 25 miles down the coast. It costs us nothing to ride on the train so if a fellow had the time he could go anywhere around here. At this place I had a nice Xmas dinner and saw a whole string of German railroad coaches they had turned over. I then came back to Dunkerque and caught another train to Cassel and from here I walked home, a distance of about three and one-half miles. Lately we haven't received any mail. Guess the Xmas mail is congested.

"We leave here, I understand, about the first of the month for Le Mans or around there. I think we will be entitled to a seven-day leave then and will be able to see more of the country.

"The towns all look alike though, only some are a little larger than others.

"In Calais they had kodaks; if they had not been so high priced I would have got one to shoot on the way home. They are just 100 per cent. higher than home. The towns are thick over here. One can stand and look around and see three or four church steeples which indicate a town. Was surprised to see so many Catholics. The population is about all Catholic.

"In Calais I also saw a big bunch of allied prisoners who had returned from Germany.

A WOULD-BE SURPRISER IS SURPRISED SOLDIER

Private Benjamin Acosta reached Glendale Thursday planning a fine surprise for his relatives. Arriving unheralded by any telegram he made his way to the well-known address only to find the Acostas had moved. Humbly asking directions from the family milkman he finally reached his objective and was properly welcomed by his mother. Acosta is one of the fighting members of Glendale's largest family.

PVT. BENJ. ACOSTA

GOES OVER THE TOP AT ST. MIHIEL AND THE MEUSE, BUT RETURNS IN GOOD HEALTH

Private Benjamin Acosta, who arrived Thursday from overseas and who is one of nine children, had a royal welcome and could scarcely get away from his rejoicing brothers and sisters long enough to answer the inquiries of the News reporter. In spite of the fact that he went over the top more than twelve times and was in the heavy fighting at St. Mihiel and on the Meuse, he looks fine and feels as sound physically as ever, though he did not escape wounds.

He was early inducted into the army at Camp Lewis which he left June 24, 1918, and sailed for "over there" July 6th. He had only about six weeks' training when he went to the front. October 3d he was hit between the shoulders by a fragment of a shell which exploded near him and killed four or five men, injuring others. For three weeks he was in a hospital where he completely recovered.

He was in Paris when the armistice was signed and would have been glad to return to his regiment and go into Germany, but the army authorities listed him with the casuals and sent him home instead. He says all the men in the hospital at the time he was there were eager to get well and return to their companies. All were good soldiers. Neither France nor its people, he says, will stand comparison with California, which, he declared, looked mighty good to him, especially when he got into the San Fernando Valley. He was doing truck work before he entered the army and after he has had a good visit with his family, he will be in the market for a job.

SERGT. ROGER BAKER

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baker, of Brand boulevard, have been made very happy by news from their son, Sergeant Roger Baker, that the 91st Division, of which he is a part, is slated to leave "over there" by the 20th of February. The Bakers are planning great things to celebrate his return. He expects to be sent to Camp Lewis for discharge and when he arrives here he will be accompanied by his wife, a Tacoma girl. He wrote his parents at Christmas time that he felt he had three great reasons for thanksgiving, first, that he still had his father and mother, second, that he had so good a wife, and third, that he had come through the war without a scratch. He is in the 316th Ammunition Train of the 91st Division.

SONG AND TALK FEST

DR. E. H. WILLISFORD TELLS COMMUNITY SING OF Y. M. C. A. WORK AND ITS CRITICS

Not less than five hundred persons enjoyed the Community Sing Thursday evening, which, as usual, was a most successful evening of music with a program of speeches in addition. Blake Franklin, one of the officials of the organization, explained its financial needs and cards pledging monthly sums ranging from 10c up were circulated among the audience to secure, if possible, a guaranteed amount which would cover the expense of the movement which averages about $60 a month and which brings more real joy to the big audiences which assemble week after week, than anything else Glendale has prepared for their pleasure. He explained that $40 a month had already been pledged and that $20 to $25 more per month was needed. The results of the appeal were not very encouraging as the pledges received totaled less than $10, but Mr. Franklin stated the committee would continue its efforts as the Community Sing was too popular an affair to be permitted to go down for lack of the small amount needed to finance it, especially in the face of a request

LEAGUE OF NATIONS CONSTITUTION

COMPLETED DRAFT READ BY PRESIDENT WILSON TO PLENARY SESSION OF PEACE CONFERENCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, Feb. 14.—President Wilson today read the completed draft of the constitution of the league of Nations to the plenary session of the peace conference.

It included stringent measures against war.

In case any nation makes war without first resorting to arbitration, the constitution provides for the following courses of action:

Severance of diplomatic relations by all members of the league.

An economic blockade.

The use of force on the recommendation of the league's executive council.

In using force each power is left free to act according to its own constitutional provisions as to war-making.

The league's constitution contains twenty-seven articles, five having been added yesterday. The last three articles are purely parliamentary.

Congratulation on securing the adoption of the constitution by the committee poured in to American headquarters today. Members of the constitutional committee declared it was "a golden day in history."

It was announced that despite contrary reports, France is firmly behind the league of nations.

The constitution's premable says: "The purpose of the league of nations is the promotion of international co-operation to secure international peace and security by the acceptance of obligations not to resort to war; by the prescription of open, just and honorable relations between nations; by the firm establishment of an understanding of international law as the actual rule of conduct among governments; by the maintenance of justice and scrupulous respect for all treaty obligations, in the dealings of organized peoples one with another."

The constitution provides for the establishment of an executive council to conduct its affairs, the council to be composed of representatives of the member nations, each nation to have not more than three representatives and only one vote. A permanent capital with the necessary officers is to be established, and meetings of the executive council will be held at stated intervals, or more frequently if necessary.

STRIKE PROSPECTS IN BUTTE

ITS CONTINUANCE WILL DEPEND UPON VOTE OF ENGINEERS' UNION TOMORROW NIGHT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Butte, Mont., Feb. 14.—Mayor Maloney issued a statement to the United Press today, saying: "The decision as to whether the Butte copper miners' strike is to continue indefinitely depends on the outcome of tomorrow night's vote by the Engineers' Union."

Maloney declared the situation in Butte is the result of the radical element striking against a cut in wages, picketing mines, and the intimidation of the more conservative element.

The carmen and several other unions struck simply because there was no work for them after the miners quit, Maloney said. He declared that no recognized union had called a strike officially.

The mayor says that several thousands troops are in the city, but the establishment of martial law has not been necessary, and the district has been orderly excepting a few isolated disturbances.

TRAFFIC TIE-UP GROWS WORSE

ONLY WIRES TO PACIFIC COAST NOW WORKING ARE CANADIAN LINES, WHICH ARE HEAVILY CONGESTED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Denver, Feb. 14.—Another day of practically complete severance of communication between the Pacific coast and the east appeared probable at noon. Telegraph and telephone officials announced that conditions had grown worse since Wednesday night's storm in Kansas and Nebraska.

Many trains are snowbound and the railway tie-up makes it impossible to get crews out to repair telegraph wires.

Drifts ten feet deep are blocking the Santa Fe line in Kansas, and heavy snows have tied up other lines east of North Platte in Nebraska and at Dodge City, Kansas. Only one train has arrived in Denver from the east in the last twenty-four hours.

The only telegraph wires to the Pacific coast now working are via Canada, and those wires are uncertain and heavily congested.

BILL TO GIVE CASH BONUS

WASHINGTON LEGISLATURE CONSIDERS MEASURE TO AID RETURNING SERVICE MEN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Olympia, Wash., Feb. 14.—Returned soldiers appearing before the Washington Legislature in support of a bill providing a cash bonus for returning service men today declared that the average soldier, on discharge from the army, has about $7.50 in his pocket.

They all declared they needed money to finance them before getting work, but that they will not ask for charity.

MESS SERGEANTS HAVE BIG JOB IN FRANCE

Mess Sergeant Ralph Dodsworth of the 52nd Ammunition Train arrived in Glendale Tuesday after eight months' service overseas, three of which were spent in the front artillery lines. He was discharged at Fort McArthur. Dodsworth declares a mess sergeant has his trials and tribulations trying to satisfy the Yanks' appetite with bully beef and hardtack when nothing else can be obtained in France.

CO. E. LIKE SOCKS

ENCOURAGING NEWS FROM LIEUT. J. E. ROCKHOLD AND HIS SON, HOWARD

An interesting letter was received by "E" Co. Auxiliary from Capt. Woeful, of "E" Co., 117th Reg. Eng., now at Mayschoss on the Rhine.

The letter voiced the thanks of the whole company for 250 pairs of socks sent them by the auxiliary, which arrived Xmas Day. The captain wrote most highly of the fine spirit, behavior and ability to accomplish great things, possessed by the boys of his company. He stated they had made 79 camps, met the enemy in face to face combat 180 times and had marched 1,010 kilometers, besides all their hard work in bridge and road building, trench digging, making barbed wire entanglements, etc., etc.

DeWitt Sheriger and Elmer Gee of Eagle Rock, also Howard B. Rockhold, former students of G. U. H. S., are members of this company.

Howard Rockhold was forced to leave the company on Nov. 19th while they were on their march into Germany, on account of rheumatism due to sleeping on the wet ground in wet clothes. He is now at a Base Hospital near Neoers and is improving slowly.

Lieut. J. E. Rockhold has entirely recovered his eyesight and has been assigned inspection of roads and road building in two departments (counties) around Tours—where the government has one of its large Salvage Depots.

PIPERS PAY

CLEVER PLAYLET IS STAGED BY MEMBERS OF DRAMATIC CLASS OF UNION HIGH

Another successful playlet was staged by the dramatic class of Glendale Union High Thursday afternoon. It was entitled, "Pipers Pay" and was directed by Miss Geneva Martin, a member of the senior class which will graduate in June. The plot centers around a society lady who is bitten by the craze to collect souvenir spoons from fashionable cafes and the league of the proprietors to put a stop to the practice by prosecuting for every theft of the kind they can discover. Mrs. Peggie Burton, a society lady, and hostess in the play, was well personated by Ivy Mills. A leader of the Four Hundred, Mrs. Hereford-Carr, who has strong ideas in regard to social class distinctions, was represented by Irene Ward. Mrs. Burton has missed a necklace and discovered it in the bureau of a maid, who has been with her for years, always honest and faithful, but who is away for the afternoon. In excitement the mistress seeks the services of a detective agency which sends in the guise of a maid one of its employes who is also serving the league of hotel proprietors in the search for souvenir thieves. Mrs. Burton gives a party at which others in the cast appear, viz.: Mrs. Charles Dover, a frivolous lady, who is very much in love with her husband, and continually quoting "Charley;" the detective maid, Mary Clark, taken by Lois Percy; Mrs. Freeda ————, the one sensible woman in the party who does not lose her head, a role filled by Gladys Nofziger; Kate, the Maid, who had found the necklace and placed it temporarily in her bureau for safe keeping, played by Ruth Ryan. The climax of the plot is reached when the detective identifies some of the silver she is looking for, but Mrs. Herefore-Carr, on account of her social prestige, is able to persuade the hotel men not to prosecute, and the newspapers not to publish the story. It was very well played, and unlike most playlets was sustained in interest.

WEATHER FORECAST: Generally fair tonight and Saturday.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

CITY WILL ISSUE MEMORIAL TO SOLDIERS IN APPRECIATION OF SERVICES

The Board assembled at 8:10 p. m., February 13, 1919, all members present, except Trustee Jackson. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The Clerk called the attention of the Board to the application of C. A. Beeson & Son, presented to the Board on the 21st of November, 1918, for a permit to operate auto trucks over the streets of the City of Glendale, no action having been taken since the reference of the matter to the City Attorney. On motion of Trustee Shaw, it was ordered that a hearing in this case be set for 8:00 o'clock p. m., February 27, 1919.

The City Engineer presented a map of the Penfield Tract (outside the City of Glendale) and recommended that the said map be approved by the Board. On motion of Trustee Muhleman, it was ordered that the Board give its approval to the map of the Penfield Tract, submitted by the City Engineer.

The Tax Collector's report for the week ending on this date was presented to the Board, showing receipts since the last report amounting to $366.17, making a total to date of $57,252.29. Same was ordered to be filed.

The City Assessor made a report in regard to the assessment of the property of Mr. Pelanconi, a portion of which is outside of the City of Glendale, and had been erroneously assessed by the City, recommending that a proportionate reduction be made in the assessment. This and one or two other corrections in the assessment roll reported upon by the Assessor, were referred to the City Attorney to report at the next meeting.

The Manager of the Public Service Department filed a report on matters connected with his department, particularly in regard to the possibilities in development work in Verdugo Canyon, which, on motion of Trustee Muhleman, was referred to the Committee of the Whole. The Manager of the Public Service Department also presented certain data in reference to the holdings of the City of Glendale in the Verdugo Canyon Water Co. and in regard to a number of water

SOLDIER'S CHRONICLE

BROTHER OF MRS. BLUMENTHAL WRITES OF MARCH INTO GERMANY AND HIS IMPRESSIONS

The following chronicle of a soldier's life over there both before and after the armistice was signed, and recording his impressions of the part of Germany in which the army of occupation now is, has been received from Mrs. Harry Blumenthal, of 903 Melrose street. It was written by her brother, J. C. Ogle, of Co. I, 28th Inf., 1st Div., A. E. F. It is claimed this division had the heaviest casualties of any in the service. Private Ogle came through, however, without wounds or sickness. He was inducted into service at Camp Sherman in Ohio and in about two weeks started for over there, sailing on the 22d of June and went into action in August, so he had little chance for training. He had no chance to write and his family did not hear from him until after the armistice was signed.

A later letter from Steinefrenz, dated December 30th, stated he had gone as far into Germany as it was expected the army of occupation would go:

"Eschelbauch, Germany,
"December 20, 1918.

"Dear Brother:—

"It has been some time since I have heard from you, no doubt though but what you received my letter dated sometime in October. I was in Rennout, France, then.

"I joined this company sometime in August and have been with them all the time, they did the hardest fighting at Cantigney and Soissons, but that was before I joined them. They were on a quiet sector around Toul when I joined them. They were relieved by another division and went back for a few days' rest and then went into action at St. Mehiel on the morning of Sept. 12th at 5. It had been raining all night. We did not see any fighting as our battalion was in reserve, though we followed up about one mile in the rear. We were not in any artillery fire as the Germans had moved it several days before. We were relieved on Sept. 15th and stayed in a German prison camp for a few days, then we marched to a few different towns billetting a few days in each and started on

COMMENT OF THE COUNTRYSIDE

At Roberts & Echols' drug store there is a camera enlargement of Fourth Street (Broadway) as it was a dozen years ago and less. The only building in sight was the residence at Third and Brand, which is still there. But, oh, what a change has taken place in a few short years!

And what a change will take place in Glendale in ten more years. Growing steadily, this city is bound to become a second Pasadena in Southern California. There is room enough within the boundaries of this mountain circumscribed dale of ours to furnish residence for forty thousand people.

Forget ye not to make arrangements to be in attendance on the Greater Glendale Association next Tuesday night. Several big municipal questions are to be discussed, including post office, parks, and perhaps one or two other matters of more importance.

Many visitors were in Glendale for the first time yesterday. It is estimated that more than two dozen homeseekers and tourists made inquiries at local real estate offices in regard to rentals and sales. In speaking with several of those looking over this fair city, they all acclaim it the most lively and prosperous place adjacent to Los Angeles.

Among the many of Glendale's industries are those of poultry raising, flower gardening and vegetable growing. Within the corporate limits of the city are immense tracts devoted to the raising of early vegetables, and the floral business keeps more than one hundred families in this vicinity. Chickens are an unestimated industry on account of so many home enterprises which furnish local tables with fresh produce.

"PUSS IN THE CORNER"

When Glendale was informed that the Irish Linen Store was no more, that its stock had been moved to another suburb and its store room closed, there was mingled regret and dismay. Now we learn that the Glendale Phonograph & Piano Company is moving into the old quarters of the Irish Linen Store that it may have more room for its expanding business. We also learn that the Irish Linen Store, reincarnate with Mr. Moore as its soul is to occupy the quarters used by the Victor Cafe. There is improvement all along the line on Brand, the Smart Shop opened by Mrs. Daigh, has a fresh, attractive setting, the Williams Dry Goods Store has built into its quarters a mezzanine floor, Mrs. Yarbrough is redecorating and refurnishing, the Keller School has beautified its dancing salon and reception rooms, and the Glendale Plant & Floral Company has made changes that spell beauty in its establishment, which is today making its bow to the public with a valentine opening. Its windows are banked with cut flowers and potted flowering plants and ferns and it has thrown wide a latticed door at one side displaying a vista of foliage through an avenue of palms, that is a surprising revelation—one, too, that has caught the attention of more than one prospective bride as a picturesque setting for a wedding.

Captain Jackson declares he is ready for any emergency of that kind even to the providing of an altar and a clergyman. All along the line, too, in the display windows are cut flowers or plants, a proof of the refined taste of the merchant and tribute to the love of beauty of the passer-by.

Spring is here and the impulse to expand and to enjoy and beautify is manifesting itself in the market places as well as in the gardens.

CENTRAL AVE. P.-T. A. MEETING

The regular meeting of the Central Avenue Parent-Teacher Association was held Thursday, February 13th. Mrs. Eustace B. Moore, chairman of Patriotism of the P.-T. A. Federation, was a welcome guest.

The gathering was delightfully entertained by Miss Delano, who played charming selections on a steel-stringed guitar.

Rev. Charles H. Scott, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Glendale, addressed the meeting very ably on the subject of "Patriotism." He gave a sympathetic appreciation of Washington and Lincoln and mentioned the fact that in the death of Theodore Roosevelt a third had been added to the list of patriots whose birth we commemorate in the month of February.

BOOTH has the best 30c coffee in town. Just a little left—sufficient for about a million people.

BOOTH also has the best 35c coffee in town. Just a little left—sufficient for about a million people.

BOOTH still has the best 40c coffee in town. Just a moderate supply—sufficient for about two million people.

BOOTH can still supply his famous 45c blend. This is the finest coffee the world produces. Can supply this to the whole world if they will only come or phone in for free deliveries. Freshly roasted and ground daily. Free samples by request.

HER 84TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Anna McDonald, of 438 Pioneer Drive, entertained today with a luncheon of several courses in celebration of the 84th birthday of her mother, Mrs. Scotten. Covers were laid for eight, the guest list including old friends of Mrs. Scotten, who formerly resided in Michigan, and neighbors on Pioneer Drive. A feature of the function was a handsome birthday cake, the gift of a neighbor, Miss Nina Veach. Patriotic sentiment and the valentine theme furnished the motif for decorations in which flags were used, the table being centered by red and white carnations, the favors being bon bon baskets of red, white and blue. A musical and social afternoon followed the luncheon.

LOTS ARE MOVING

C. H. Thompson of 131 N. Brand boulevard declares that the demand for real estate in Glendale is better than it has been before in six years and that it is especially noticeable in lots which have been almost a drug on the market, but which are now beginning to move. Sales are being made right along and there is constant inquiry on the part of persons who say they intend to build homes. He, like other operators, declares that houses to rent are practically impossible to get. That he has ceased to list inquiries because it is of no use to keep them, but had he preserved the record it would have reached a waiting list of not less than one hundred the past month.

THE NEW BUSINESS ESTABLISHMENT

Blanche L. Daigh, who has recently opened the Smart Shop on Brand boulevard, tells an interesting story of how near Glendale came to losing her. She had been looking for a suburban location for six months and was negotiating for one in Monrovia when she passed through Glendale and saw the store she is now occupying and that it appeared to be vacant. Crossing the street for a closer inspection she discovered two men, whom later she found were Messrs. Betz and Daniels, standing at the entrance, and asked if they could give her any information in regard to it. They assured her they could as they were the owners. She at once entered into negotiations and told them of her tentative plans with regard to Monrovia. They sent her to Mr. Moore, of the Irish Linen Store, who, they said, was acquainted with business conditions in both towns, and she decided to locate here.

Mrs. Daigh came to California from Chicago, but has definitely adopted the state as her permanent home and is a great booster for it. For a number of years she has been a Los Angeles milliner and does not limit her business functions to the making of hats, but studies the facial lines and complexions of her customers and if possible prescribes what they ought to wear and fits them to it, with satisfaction to all concerned.

Her assistant in the business is Mrs. Boilleau, who is said to be able to do anything in artistic needlework that any woman can do. For some time she was with the well-known Madame Laterna, gown maker of Los Angeles.

TRADE MARK

The City of GOODRICH Akron, Ohio

A Queer Old Bird is The Pelican

Its bill holds more than its bellican.

But at that, its heart is bigger than its bill. It is the only bird which shares its food with other and weaker fowl.

So the queer old pelican looms up handsome in Goodrich's eyes—eyes which see beauty that is more than skin deep.

Goodrich, it is true, makes Silvertown Cords the handsomest tires—the very Beau Brummel tires of smart cars.

Yet if clumsiness and ugliness would add one mile to their service, Goodrich would make them clumsy and ugly as the queer old pelican.

"Quality First," rules in the manufacture of Silvertowns; and they render quality service first and last.

Give your automobile the obvious grace and elegance of the Tires with the Twin Red Diamonds on the sidewall. Their mileage is sure.

Sept. 27th for the Argonne front. We reached the field the night of Sept. 30th, dug in, and stayed there until the morning of the 4th of October, when we went over. We dug in that night and went over the next morning. Then we dug in on the side of a hill and stayed there the 6th, 7th and 8th and went over again the morning of the 9th, always in the gray fog so the enemy can't see where you are. We dug in again and stayed there the 10th, 11th and 12th. We were ready to go over the morning of the 12th, but was stopped and told to wait for our relief which came up about 8 p. m. and we went back. They went over again in the region of Sedan on Nov. 7th and relieved on the 9th. We were in a woods not far from there when the armistice was signed and we started on our march, passed through the outskirts of Verdun and stayed two days on a hill overlooking the city, marched through Alsace Lorraine, Luxemburg to the town of Ahn, Luxemburg, rested a few days and crossed the Moselle River December 1st. At Gievenmacher followed the river to Coblenz. The night before we reached Coblenz we slept in an old castle, which belonged to the Kaiser, its name was Stolzenfels in the town of Kapellin, Osblentz, is a fine city. They have some very nice buildings there. We left on Dec. 13th and crossed the River Rhine that morning, we are now about 20 kilometers from Coblenz. It is a small town and everything is going fine.

"Well, brother, I will close, hoping to hear from you soon, and that you started my Xmas box in good time. Best wishes. A Merry Xmas.

VIEWING FRENCH TOWNS

"Am enclosing some post cards of destroyed towns and otherwise. Some places in Belgium you have to look twice to see that there was a town there.

"Hope this finds you both well and please give my regards to all our friends.

"Lovingly,
PVT. CARL FRIEDGEN,
"Co. A, 316 Engrs.,
"A. P. O., 776, A. E. F."

"Near Le Mans, France,
"Jan. 17, 1919.

"My Dear Parents:—

"Your welcome letter was received the one written just after you mailed the box and it arrived, too, in fine shape. I want to thank you for it and was very much occupied for quite a period after its arrival, which was the day after Xmas, and I appreciated it very much.

"Christmas and the day before were spent in Dunkerque and Calais, the latter being the larger and both seaports. I was out on the beach at Dunkerque, such a wide, slanting beach as it was. I walked out at least a block to the water's edge and barbed wire entanglements all along in the sand. Also lots of Allied returned prisoners there, new arrivals.

"We have moved southwest from there on the train past Paris to a camp eight miles outside of Le Mans. This place is being fitted up for the purpose of a final clean-up camp for the boys before embarkation. It is quite a large camp and one of the many around here.

"Every day it showers and reminds us of Camp Lewis and isn't cold either.

"Don't know when we leave here, but it won't be but a very few weeks now before we are on the pond again. Some of our 91st casuals are at Camp Lewis now, so that looks as though we would go there again, too, to be mustered out. When that time comes we will all be happy.

"At this camp the Y. M. C. A. has some large tents, electric lighted, for us to read and write in. A little different from the old stand by candle, but we can't even buy candles here to go to bed by, but we have our straw-ticks again and there is always something to be thankful for.

"Some of the boys are getting 7-day furloughs, but they are sent to one certain place and required to stay in this vicinity. I think we will get one-day passes to Le Mans and that is quite a place, they say. The French towns are all of the same type, so if you see a fair-sized city you know what the rest look like.

"Hope you both are progressing O. K. and guess it won't be many months before I see California again.

"Lovingly,
"PVT. CARL FRIEDGEN."

SONG AND TALK FEST

from the government that these organizations be encouraged as a means of unifying communities and promoting patriotism.

The special musical features of the evening were the attempt to make the chorus sing a "round," viz., "Three Blind Mice," the drill given on the stirring new war song or rather peace song, "The Boys Are Coming Home," and the singing of "The Marseilles" in French by Miss Hahn.

Dr. E. H. Willisford, the speaker of the evening, was then presented with a characteristic introduction by Alexander Mitchell, president of the organization, who declared there is neither religion nor politics in the Community Sing and that such men as Dr. Willisford will always be welcome on its stage, no matter what creed they represent.

The main theme of the doctor's talk was the criticism of the Y. M. C. A. army work. He stated that he held no brief for the organization, that he had never been in its employ until he went overseas, and that he was no longer in its pay and felt perfectly free to tell the whole truth.

Canteen work, he explained, had not been sought by the Y. M. C. A., but had been undertaken at the solicitation of the government which would thus be relieved of an immense responsibility. The work was undertaken by men who were untrained in enterprises of that sort, but conscientiously anxious to do their best. When one considered its magnitude and the difficulties of the situation, he felt it had been handled creditably. Most of the criticism arose, he said, through misunderstandings on the part of soldiers not familiar enough with French money to reckon readily and who sometimes confused the French centime with the American cent. Forty centimes sounded an immense price for a cigar when in reality it represented 8c in American money. The difficulty of making change, especially at huts remote from towns, sometimes led to readjustment of prices on the part of some secretaries, under which certain things would be advanced and others lowered in price to effect a balance.

The canteens represented, he said, an initial investment for stock of twelve to fifteen millions, and transactions for a year of one hundred to three hundred millions. Owing to the extent of the Y. M. C. A. operations, they could not fairly be compared, he claimed, with the smaller activities of the K. C. and Salvation Army. For instance, Y. M. C. A. secretaries numbered 3600 with 1500 huts under their care, whereas of Knights of Columbus workers there were about 1500 and 30 huts. Salvation Army workers totaled about 350. Besides work in the American armies the Y. M. C. A. had huts in the French Army camps.

In conclusion, he declared, the Y. M. C. A. had done a work of tremendous importance and value to the men. That it had been costly because the business of war was always costly. Statistics show, he says, that it has cost the United States $1000 for each man they sent. Owing to the fearful price of rough lumber, some of the huts cost $15,000 and they were by no means luxurious affairs either.

owners formerly under the distributing system of the Verdugo Pipe & Reservoir Co., but as he was not yet prepared to make recommendations in regard to the cost of service to these parties, action on the matter was deferred until the next meeting.

The City Attorney made a report in regard to the status of the water suit between the City of Glendale, Verdugo Canyon Water Co., Messrs. Ross and Thom and the Owners of Verdugo Canyon Tract. The matter has not yet come to an issue and the prospect is encouraging for satisfactory settlement of the matter out of court.

In reference to the expense incurred by the City of Glendale in resisting the attempt of the Telephone Company to increase telephone rates between Glendale and Los Angeles, on motion of Trustee Shaw, the matter was referred to the City Manager to prepare a statement showing details and the amount of the same for preparation, to other corporations and communities that had expressed their willingness to bear a portion of the expense incurred.

The Chairman appointed Trustees Shaw and Muhleman a committee to prepare a Memorial showing the appreciation of the City of Glendale for the services performed by returning soldiers who have been in the service from this community.

MR. BOB DELIGHTS

CLEVER FARCEURS AMONG GLENDALE U. H. S. HISTRIONIC TALENT

"Mr. Bob," a rollicking farce comedy of one hour's length, was presented before a well-filled auditorium at the Glendale Union High School this noon by a clever coterie of High School players. All played their individual parts excellently and several farceurs of more than ordinary talent were shown to be members of the student body.

The adventures of a poor clerk who unluckily becomes the target of a matrimonial project, furnished a theme filled with laughable situations. Guy Bennett in the character of the clerk is a born comedian. Miss Helen Ingledue as Katherine and Miss Edna Farner as Marian Bryant did well in dialogue work. Roger Denison played the part of Dr. Philip Royson to perfection.

Following is the entire cast of characters:

Aunt Becky, Dorothy Shaw; Jenkins, Erwin Weaver; Katherine, Helen Ingledue; Philip Royson, Roger Dennison; Patty, Harriet Barnes; Marian Bryant, Edna Farner; Robert Brown, Guy Bennett. Others of the staff were: Stage properties, Virginia Chappius; chief escort to two black cats, Lee Wise; stage manager, Harold Duey; business manager, Clifford Kenworthy; director, Miss A. C. Terry.

Mrs. C. R. Norton of 801 East Wilson avenue was a dinner guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Anderson of 126 North Louise on Wednesday. Mrs. Anderson had as her guests Thursday Mrs. Persia Morris and Mrs. McMullin of Los Angeles.
